GLASS

The True Guardian of Water's Purity

Water is a world traveller that is constantly circulating and never leaving Earth. We could say that water is recycled and returned in a different form. Likewise, glass as a material can be completely recycled and reused without compromising its quality.

We believe packaging should do more than hold a product, but should tell a story.

A story of purity, sustainability, and premium quality.

Our glass bottles are designed to connect your brand with consumers who seek authenticity and excellence in every detail.

WHY GLASS?

Packaging is the silent ambassador of your brand. A beautiful, thoughtfully designed bottle creates a sensory experience that starts before the first sip. The weight of glass in the hand, the clarity of the material, and the smoothness of its curves all tell your customer that your water is special, worth savouring, and worthy of their trust.

By choosing glass, you send a message:
your brand respects nature, quality, and the consumer’s health.

OUR WATER REFERENCES IN FOCUS

NONGFU SPRING

Founded in 1996, Nongfu Spring is China’s largest packaging water supplier, holding the number one spot for market share and is one of the top 20 beverage companies in China.

»The shape of the bottle has been designed to resemble the soft and elegant lines of a water droplet.«

Sarah Pidgeon, Horse Design Studio

Produced for high-end restaurants, bars and hotels, the bottles feature eight different plant and animal species from Moya Spring, at the foot of Changbai Mountain. The screen-printed design pays homage to the source by depicting indigenous species, including the Siberian Tiger and Chinese Merganser, and is accompanied by Chinese copy that reveals facts about the region. This water bottle was also served as part of the G7 meeting in China.

JRE: RE•WATER

The JRE bottle RE•water is a prestigious, superbly designed and at the same time ecological and sustainable glass packaging that respects the valuable content it carries.

»We wanted to connect organisations that are aware of the importance of nature and water resources.«

Gašper Puhan, JRE Jeunes Restaurateurs

A unique punt leverages the refracting properties of glass to premiumize both the bottle and the brand. This design element creates visual illusions and effects that evoke the purity of water and its reflections. The bottle’s minimalist shape emphasises a wider top, symbolising the strength and significance of its contents. Practically, the broader neck also facilitates low-energy machine washing, making the bottle a sustainable and functional choice. As a result, this thoughtfully designed product is used daily in over 400 JRE Jeunes Restaurateurs restaurants across 16 countries. The bottle won the prestigious Red Dot award for water bottle design for high-end restaurants.

OLIMIA

The Olimia bottle holds healing thermal water from Terme Olimia represents the source of health and well-being.

»The bottle's design primarily stems from the architectural appearance of Terme Olimia.

In the bottle's design, we wanted to reflect the architectural lines, dominated by triangular and rhomboid shapes. Its appearance also holds strong symbolic meaning.«

Terme Olimia

The bottle features multiple facets, intricately cut to create a striking, crystal appearance. Each facet is designed to catch and reflect light, enhancing the visual appeal and creating a dynamic play of reflections. The shape is aligned with the architecture. The bottle's body is shaped like an elongated hexagon, providing a modern, geometric aesthetic. When exposed to light, the bottle creates a shimmering effect, reminiscent of sunlight on water.

PASSUGGER CRYSTAL EDITION

A glass bottle with a custom label, designed specifically for gastronomy and the hotel industry.

»For hosts who value personality, aspiration and style.«

Allegra Passuger

The Crystal Edition bottle is the perfect finishing touch for refined gastronomy, upscale hotels, or a sophisticated corporate image. Its extraordinary design draws inspiration from an elegantly set table, complementing a noble banquet and becoming a standout feature in any hotel room. The premium textured detail at the top resembles water droplets, inviting both touch and taste.

We invite you to explore our collection and imagine the possibilities.
